PATENT EXAMINER

Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: In response to the applicants' argument that "since Montero specifically teaches away from updating the session data in the database after every request or every attribute change, there would no reason to track individual attribute accesses in Montero", Montero also teaches updating session data in the database after a specified number of changes to the session data have been made; therefore, if x is the specified number, then x-1 updates are held by the application server till there are x number of updates. Thus, Montero does not teach away from such tracking capability. See "Response to Arguments" and rejections in the Final Office Action mailed on 4/24/06 for any remaining arguments for claims. In response to the applicants' argument for the claims being rejected under 102(e), it is a typo error and the claims should be rejected under 103(a).
